LETTER #1 SEND Aug. 7, Häuser strike day 18
Friday

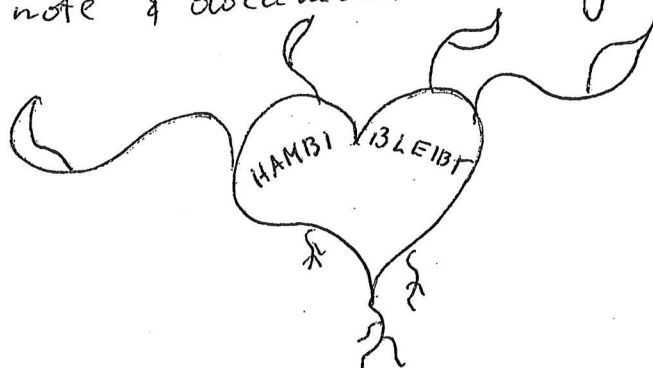

Dear Kurt?

August 7, 2015

I am now going on the 17th day of my hunger strike and feel alright both physically & mentally I am a bit slower & more deliberate in body but my thoughts are active & with the forest & all of you. For 2 weeks I did not hear from anybody & did not have any addresses to write, so yesterday's delivery of your gifts & too packages at the same times was very much like the band of 20 mappies (Elsters) & another one of as many wild ducks that land outside of my bars which I have been feeding with all of this food that I have no interest in, which have kept my spirits going by reminding me that surrounded by life, solidarity & people like you one is never alone. Can't wait to see & hug each one of you. In the meantime please write me of:
